

Taste the Rainbow: 25 Food and Beverage Brands Supporting Pride

From Oreos to Miller Lite, the grocery aisle is turning rainbow-colored for Pride.

It's Pride month and companies across America are getting in on the celebration with collections and campaigns that honor the LGBTQ community.

Read more: 52 Brands That Are Giving Back for Pride 2022

Snackmakers, beverage companies and alcohol manufacturers are no different: From household staples to independent brands, many are launching rainbow-colored treats for June. Below, we're spotlighting dozens of brands that aren't just serving up a slice of Pride but delivering the goods with donations to LGBTQ advocacy groups.

Bon appetit!

Sugar & Cream

Cream + Sugar

Cream + Sugar pastry chef Chad Horton whipped up a special edition mini-ice cream sandwich for Pride: Vanilla ice cream decorated with rainbow sprinkles and wedged between two handmade chocolate-chip cookies.

The Wyoming-based artisanal ice cream company is making the frozen treats available the entire month of June, with a portion of proceeds benefiting Jackson Hole Pride.

Don't live in Wyoming? A pack of 16 is available for nationwide delivery from Goldbelly.