

Must Have Items for a Low Key New Year's Eve

There have been many years that we've either celebrated at home, or gone to a friend's house for a night of food and games.

I remember one year, when I was in high school, we were having such a good time that we actually missed the stroke of midnight. Whoops!

We've gathered up some of our favorite items that make a low key New Year's Eve still feel celebratory and as enjoyable as going out. Plus, you don't have to deal with anyone you don't want to. Win-win!

Cream + Sugar Ice Cream Sandwiches

You scream, I scream, we all scream for ice cream. This adage is even more true when it's delicious ice cream sandwiches from Cream + Sugar. These gourmet ice cream sandwiches start with luscious, small batch ice creams in flavors like Peppermint, Pumpkin, and Salted Caramel. Then you sandwich it between two bakery fresh cookies, and you have something really special. They're a perfect way to celebrate a special day – or any day.
