

Here's Where to Eat and Drink at the Next 49ers Game at Levi's Stadium

From a destination pub to new food trucks, here are the updates to your Niners eating plan

by Dianne de Guzman | Oct 20, 2022, 12:58pm PDT

As the Niners Faithful continue to follow their home team this season – because who's got it better than us? — the next-important thing worth paying attention to is the food scene at Levi's Stadium this year. The stadium has long prided itself on partnering with local restaurants and continuing to update its offerings each season, and 2022 is no exception. There are a number of new spots to eat and imbibe at this season, with special attention being paid to areas for the most faithful of the Faithful: namely, season ticket holders.

For the newcomers attending an upcoming game inside Levi's Stadium, or for those who perhaps have attended games there in the past, here are some of the big updates to the stadium's food and drink options:

Welcome to the suite life

If you're lucky enough to park your butt in a suite, there are a number of food upgrades there, as the Burgess Brothers added some new items to the Yahoo Club, along with Tony G's Slice House (which is being added to three new clubs within the stadium), and Steakhouse Board, serving items such as a dry aged burger. On the sweets side, Campbell's Psycho Donuts is a new addition to the suites, as well as ice cream from Cream + Sugar.